

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Garden State Watercolor Society Will Help Middletown Arts Center to Celebrate their 10th Anniversary

Middletown, NJ – April 6:

The Round Robin is Saturday, May 6, 2017 from 1:00-3:00PM. In this live painting event, four watercolor artists – Tess Fields, Judy Hummer, Jane Lux and Zina Umyn -- will each start and finish their own painting in this live demo. But there's a twist... Every 15 minutes, they will pass their painting to another artist to work her own magic, until all four have had the chance to collaborate on each painting. All four of the finished matted paintings will then be auctioned off.

Quotes from the artists:

"I enjoy painting people in the act of living their lives. Watercolor is a challenging and exciting medium in which to do these informal portraits. It will be a thrill to work with this outstanding artists." --Tess Fields, North Hanover Twp.

"I love experimenting with techniques that allow me to use watercolor to evoke emotions, environments and movement. Through experimentation, exciting and unexpected things happen, making each painting a new adventure." --Judy Hummer, Bridgewater

"I enjoy working experimentally while using plastic wrap, tissue paper, sponges, leaves, tape, alcohol, and an occasional sprinkle of salt." --Jane Lux, Little Silver

"The constant element of surprise on paper is what keeps me working in watercolor. It's the perfect fluid vehicle to help me express the inner and outer world." --Zina Umyn, Columbus

This lively and FREE event will be popular. Free Parking is available in train station lot across the street from the Arts Center.
